Irish Rebels Played Game BOND SALES ON THE STOCK EXCHANGE PRODUCE AND of Kaiser to Gain Own Ends

Sinn Feiners Never German Sympathizers-Terrib Poverty in Dublin Had Part in Uprising-Spirit of Unrest Spreading Over Europe.

London, May 17.—While in and around Dublin during the Sinn Fein rebellion, I made a special point of getting the views of the leaders in various classes of Irish society as to the causes of the insurrection. Apparently no one disputes the statement that German money financed the uprising, but this sid was accepted not because of any love for the Kaiser and his people. Sinn Feiners realized Germany used them simply as pawns in its big game and they were willing to play the Kaiser's game as a means toward the end they were seeking. If America had offered the same assistance it would have been welcomed with even greater enthusiasm. In fact, America did have a big part in the preparations and as details come to light this becomes more and more apparent.

There was a considerable increase in the total number of deaths caused by elephants, tigers, leopards and bears, the figures for the year under report being 28, 87, 78 and 12, against 16, 60, 46 and 6, respectively, in the previous year. There was also a small increase in the number of deaths caused by "other wild animals," the figures being 216 in 1915, against 201 in 1914. This increase was due mainly to deaths caused by wild hoars, the figure for the year under report being 60, against 39 in the preceding of persons reported to have died from snake bite during 1915, in the Dacca, Rajshahi and Chittagong divisions, where the figures rose from 581, 929 and 127 in 1914 to 816, 1,279 and 170, respectively, in 1915. The large increase is due to excessive floods which drove the snakes to take shelter in human habitations. In the Burdwan and Presidency divisions there was a slight decrease.
